

"DO NO HARM"

A Coalition of Australians who support
Ethical Medical Research

invites you to a presentation by

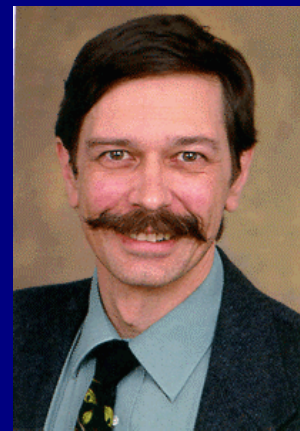

Professor David Prentice

Professor of Life Sciences, Indiana State University
Founding Member of Do No Harm: The Coalition of Americans for Research Ethics

Professor Prentice is in Sydney for just one day.

Don't miss the opportunity to hear this leading American Stem Cell Researcher.

Professor Prentice has reviewed for professional publications including The Journal of the American Medical Association, has testified several times before the US Congress as well as several US State Legislatures, and has spoken before the US National Academy of Sciences, British Parliament, European Parliament, and Canadian Parliament.

This is not just another meeting about an important issue. This is an issue of CRITICAL IMPORTANCE FOR THE FUTURE WELLBEING OF AUSTRALIA !

The question is, "Should human beings be used for destructive laboratory experimentation?"
The Prime Minister and all State Premiers say YES.

WHEN: Wednesday 14 August 2002 7.30 – 9.30 pm
(The evening must finish at 9.30 sharp as Professor Prentice is debating Alan Trounson live on ABC Lateline at 10.30)

WHERE: The Mural Room, North Sydney Anzac Memorial Club
Corner of Ernest and Miller Streets, North Sydney

Let your presence at this meeting show them that many Australians say,

'NO DESTRUCTIVE HUMAN EMBRYO EXPERIMENTATION!'
